Good Afternoon Parents and Caregivers,

As you are aware, the District will be starting in a Hybrid Model (50% of students in-person learning on any day) this coming school year. Many of you have sent in questions related to the Hybrid Model as well as the “At Home” options via either the Connecticut Learning Hub or Homeschooling. Linked below are five videos to help you understand the Hybrid Model better. I provide a general introduction and answer some of your major questions, so I recommend you watch my video first. Then, the administration of each building has provided a brief video to describe what learning in the Hybrid Model will look like for students in that building.

One additional note regarding the “At Home” option is that we are continuing to develop additional support for students and families, and more information will be coming out in the next week. Recent updates include adding in daily class meetings and providing full access to classes on Wednesdays, or on the students’ remote learning days.
